

Siobhán Doran Photography

Curriculum Vitae

Originally from the Irish Republic, Siobhán now lives in Hertfordshire, UK. She has worked as a freelance artist since establishing Siobhán Doran Photography in September 2007; prior to this, she divided her time between design and her artworks. Initially trained in architectural technology, she worked for more than a decade in building design before undertaking a photography degree at the University of Westminster, London. She graduated in 2006 with first-class honours and now devotes all her time to the craft of photography. Siobhán focuses both on personal fine-art projects and on working with the design community. In the latter role she brings to bear her architectural experience, creating commissioned artwork as well as photographing the interiors and exteriors of contemporary and historic buildings.
